

MURDERED HIS WIFE.

Then Car-Conductor Shea Shot Himself in the Head.

Unreasonably Jealous of the Woman Who Supported Him.

Taken to Chambers Street Hospital and May Recover.

John G. Shea, aged forty-five, shot at 4:45 o'clock this morning at his home, 181 Rade street. He then fired a bullet into his own head, and was shortly afterwards taken to the Chambers Street Hospital supposedly in a dying condition.

Shea is described as a man of a violently jealous disposition. Every state taken by his wife aroused his suspicion. Neighbors agree that his jealousy was groundless. He was a car conductor on the Canal street line, but has been out of work for three months.

Shea's MURDERED WIFE. The couple had been married eleven months. Both had been married before. Something over a year ago the woman, one being Mrs. Lizzie Wittmann, of 22 East Fifty-first street, and the other Mrs. Annie Strobel, of 363 First avenue.

The other four children were dependent for support upon their mother. The children are Margaret, aged seventeen; James, aged fifteen; Maria, aged thirteen; and Peter H., aged twelve.

Shea's children by his first marriage are in a convent somewhere in New Jersey.

At first the married life of the Sheas went along smoothly, although the husband now and then showed signs of being troubled with an unreasonable jealousy. This grew in intensity, and gave rise to quarrels, by the time Shea lost his job as car conductor, three months ago, the quarrels became more violent.

TRIED TO KILL HIS PARENTS.

Crazy Henry Weber Armed Himself with a Hatchet.

Drove Members of His Family Into the Street Half Dead.

Henry Weber, a young man who lives with his parents on North Eighth street, near Kent avenue, Williamsburg, was sent to jail for ten days by Justice Goetting in the Lee Avenue Court today, and it was also directed that his sanity be inquired into.

For the past five years Weber has at times acted as if slightly demented, but he has always recovered his senses without much trouble. He was employed as a clerk in a Grand street store up to a few weeks ago, when he lost his position on account of the dull times.

Weber brooded over the fact that he had nothing to do, and late last night his mind seemed to go completely to pieces. He secured a hatchet and rushed into the front room where his mother and father were sleeping.

"How can you be so comfortable?" he cried, "when you know that all over this city there are people who have nothing to eat and nowhere to sleep? Get up or I will kill you."

Mr. and Mrs. Weber arose hastily. The father picked up a chair and threw it at his son, but without doing any damage. Then Henry seized his hatchet and rushed into the room where his mother and father were sleeping.

STABBED FOUR TIMES.

A Spaniard Plunges a Dirk Into a Swede's Face.

The Swede Wouldn't Treat, and a Gang of Five Fell Upon Him.

Frank Smith, who, in spite of his name, insists that he is a Spaniard, and who looks it, was held in $1,000 bail for trial in the Tombs Police Court this morning on the charge of inflicting four knife wounds on John Johnson, a Swede, of 29-1/2 Cherry street.

Johnson became involved in a dispute with Smith and four other Spaniards on James street, near Cherry street, at midnight last night.

Finally Smith said: "Well, to end the dispute we'll all take a drink at Johnson's expense."

Johnson objected. The others insisted and threatened him if he did not treat. "I'll make you treat," shouted Smith, and followed by the others, sprang upon Johnson.

He was thrown down and pounded. One of the gang, Johnson says it was Smith, drew a Spanish knife and stabbed Johnson twice in the head and twice in the chest.

Johnson's cries brought Policeman Rickman to the scene, who pulled the assailants off Johnson. He was inensible.

They turned on the policeman, but he stood them off with his revolver until the arrival of assistance, when the five were arrested.

Johnson's injuries were attended to by an ambulance surgeon, and he was able to appear in court this morning.

Smith was held for trial, and the other men were fined $5 each.

They were Tony Smith, Manuel Campbell, Joe Malino and Ernest Rengel.

The man fitted in and out of the building, and when Roundsman McGee, who was suspicious, asked him what precinct he belonged to, he said the Sixteenth.

Several men from one could identify him in court, and as no evidence was offered, he was released.

NOW FOR CULLEN TO DECIDE.

Would-Be Supervisor Kehoe Applies for a Mandamus.

Wants Fitchie Compelled to Recognize Him as a Member.

The political complexion of the Kings County Board of Supervisors is in the hands of Justice Cullen. The struggle between the Democrats and Republicans for possession of the Board came to a climax this morning when George Kehoe, the alleged Supervisor of the Eighth Ward, petitioned the Court for a writ of mandamus, to compel Supervisor-at-Large Thomas Fitchie, to recognize him as a member of the Board.

Kehoe was represented by Lawyers John H. Kemble, Luke D. Stapleton and John B. Eysenhard, counsel for the Board of Supervisors. Kemble and Stapleton did all the work, and Meyenhard, as usual, did nothing.

George F. Elyott represented Fitchie. He opened the case by citing the history of the controversy. He showed that Kehoe had been appointed by the Board of Aldermen to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Supervisor Ritchie.

His appointment was made on Dec. 30.

He held his client had been given his certificate of office, his name had been placed on the roll of the Board, and that Supervisor-at-Large Fitchie had refused to recognize him as a member of the Board.

The Board is to hold a meeting this afternoon, and the question of Fitchie's refusal to recognize Kehoe will be taken up.

"I shall decide this matter when I feel prepared to do so," replied Justice Cullen.

Mr. Elliott then proceeded to show that Kehoe had no legal claim to the office. He said that the charter explicitly stated that the term of office of a person appointed to fill a vacancy should expire at the end of the political year next succeeding the vacancy.

He said this was the case with Kehoe, and that his term expired on Jan. 1. He also claimed that the minutes of the Board, at which Kehoe had been appointed, had not been approved by the Mayor.

Mr. Elliott then made a lengthy argument to show that the Mayor had no right to veto the appointment of Kehoe, and that the Board was the only body that could appoint or remove a Supervisor.

Justice Cullen took the papers and said he would give his decision in a few days. He said he could see no good reason for haste, as the matter should be settled only after a full consideration.

COMMISSIONERS ENJOINED. Ernest Ochs's Application for a License Held Up.

Excise Commissioners Hayden, Schlemmer and Cahill, of Brooklyn, have been served with a temporary injunction restraining them from granting a license to Ernest Ochs to open a saloon at De Kalb and Franklin avenues.

The injunction proceedings were begun by William Dennithorn. The order was granted by Justice Gaynor.

Counselor J. Stewart Ross this morning secured from Justice Gaynor the privilege of introducing additional affidavits in the case.

Dennithorn objects to the license being granted on the ground that the proposed saloon at De Kalb and Franklin avenues is in a residential district.

The papers in the case also object to Commissioner Schlemmer having any authority to grant a license without the approval of the Board of Excise.

It is stated that Commissioner Schlemmer has refused to grant the license to Ochs, and that the Board of Excise is now considering the case.

At a meeting of the Police Board this afternoon a resolution was adopted relative to the alleged disorderly houses in the Fourth Precinct, commanded by Capt. Edward Slewin, and that this testimony be taken by the Board.

The Police Board, prior to any charges being made against Capt. Slewin, had a resolution passed that the Board should have no authority to grant a license without the approval of the Board of Excise.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

EXONERATED BY GOV. WERTS.

Jersey City's Street and Water Commissioners All Right.

Mayor Wanser Cannot Remove Them from Office.

Gov. Werts announced his decision today in the matter of the charges made against the Street and Water Commissioners of Jersey City by Frank O. Cole and Hugh Leslie, of the "Citizens' Committee." There were eighteen specified charges. Gov. Werts does not confirm the decision of Mayor Wanser, who found the Commissioners guilty of three charges.

The charges on which Mayor Wanser found the Commissioners guilty were for violating the law in expending an amount over $500 for public improvements without a contract. The Mayor cited one case where the Commissioners had expended $250 for paving streets.

Another charge was that the Commissioners were incompetent to hold office, and the third charge was that the Commissioners had grossly neglected their duties in not collecting the $2,500 without a contract. Gov. Werts said that there was nothing in the evidence to show that the Commissioners were careless, but they were not incompetent.

The Governor said he was surprised that the Mayor should have paid so much attention to the charges. If the citizens thought the Commissioners guilty, they should have taken action against them.

Gov. Werts said that the Commissioners were not guilty of the charges, and that the Mayor's decision was not confirmed.
